His Excellency, Chester Bowles, Governor of the State of Connecticut

The Governor talking to a group of University students.

Governor Bowles has proved to be a good friend of the University of Connecticut. He has always supported the idea of expanding the University. With this support, and that of the legislature, the building program has become a reality.

The class of 1951 extend their thanks to the Governor for his support of the University.

President Albert Nels Jorgensen

Dr. Jorgensen took the challenge of Connecticut State College and made the college a University . . . high scholastically, outstanding in building expansion, and excellent in student relations with faculty and administration.

We pay tribute to Albert Nels Jorgensen, President of the University of Connecticut, and express our thanks.

DEDICATION

A wise man said that friendship is eternal, a constant flame in the lamp of time. The 1950 NUTMEG is dedicated to Miss Dorothy Culp . . . the students' friend.

Miss Culp taught at the University of Connecticut eight years, and during this time she revealed her sincere interest in the students and their problems. Working with them in the classroom, as advisor to the Student Senate and the Laurels, and as a member of the Faculty Senate, she was well aware of the students' needs. Her work in these organizations bears witness to the fact that she believed in the students as individuals . . . not mere entities . . . and for this the students are grateful.

Her life on this campus was one of complete selflessness. She preferred to remain in the background and not seek praise. Her infectious smile and ready wit coupled with complete understanding and keen insight gained her a place high in the hearts of all who knew her.

With fondest memories and warmest affection the Junior Class dedicates this volume to Miss Dorothy Culp . . . whose friendship will be eternal . . .

In Memoriam

JUNE GRISWOLD was born on June 20, 1929, in Hartford, Connecticut. She was graduated from John Fitch High School in Windsor in 1947 and came to the University in the fall, where she was enrolled in the School of Nursing.

On July 30, 1949, June was traveling to North Carolina, when a plane collided with the airliner on which she was a passenger. There were no survivors.

"Junie's" tragic and untimely death shocked everyone who knew her. Her lovable and affable nature, her kindness and sincerity, her willingness to help anyone she could, were some of the many qualities that endeared Junie in the hearts of all who knew her. Although she is "gone", she left such a deep impression on her many friends and acquaintances that they will always treasure their remembrances of her.

She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Stelmat.

*"Born of the sun they traveled a short while towards the sun,
And left the vivid air signed with their honor."*

FORT TRUMBULL

If anything personifies the spirit of Fort Trumbull, it is the May Frolic. On this weekend the exuberance of the Trumbull men reaches its peak.

The May Frolic idea was originated and put into effect the first year of the fort. Each successive class since has tried not only to match but to better the previous year's success . . . the name bands such as Elliot Lawrence and the Blue Baron, the choosing of a queen who arrives by airplane, the tea dances, the picnics, the swimming, the sailing, and the big formal . . . all these, integrated, and mixed well with gaiety, are the May Frolic.

This year's theme was "Shipwreck" pertaining to the sinking of the Trumbull ship . . . with the closing of the Fort Trumbull Branch this 1950 dance is the last of the famed Frolics.

Lois Pawlak arrived by sea, rather than air, to be crowned queen of the May Frolic Weekend. She reigned over an informal dance abounding with the shipwreck atmosphere, a picnic on the shore, and the formal at which she was presented with her crown.

The 1950 May Frolic Weekend was an appropriate climax to the other Frolics and to all the other social affairs held by the branch.

WATERBURY BRANCH

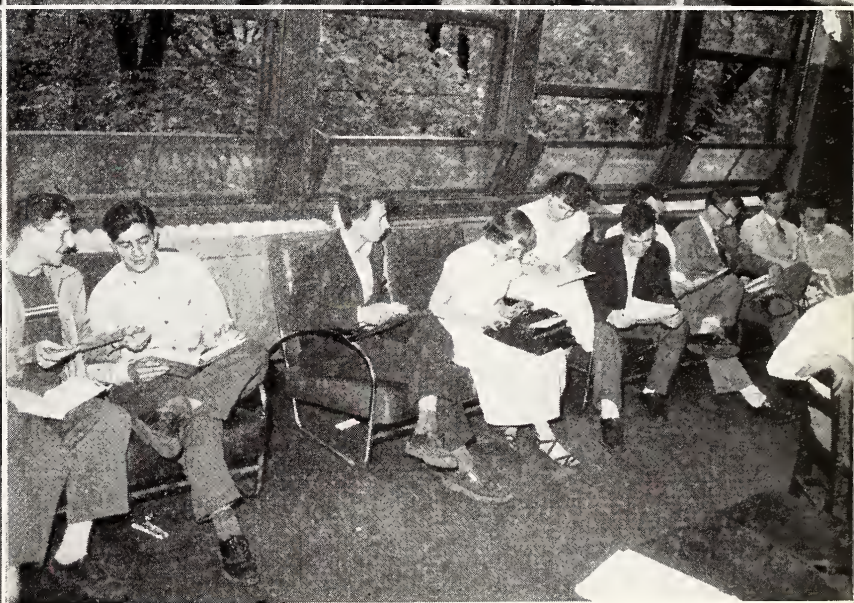

In 1942 the Waterbury Extension was established in the YMCA, and in 1946 moved to the Begnal School.

Mr. Patrick E. Fontane, supervisor at the Waterbury Branch, is shown talking with the President of the Student Senate and another student.

The Branch has many extra-curricular activities and sports are emphasized. Coach Killian is pictured with the baseball team.

The Begnal lounge is the scene of acey ducey and ping-pong matches while upstairs classes go on and students study in the library.

HARTFORD BRANCH

The Hartford Branch, which is located in the Henry Barnard School, is under the direction of Mr. Wilbur R. Griswold. He was photographed in consultation with the president and the secretary of the Hartford Senate.

The Branch is well-equipped for study, as exemplified by the library, the mechanical drawing room for the engineers, and the chemistry lab. However, they have not overlooked relaxation. There is a comfortable lounge where they may drink cokes, play cards, or read the latest club notices.

So Goes Connecticut

THIS IS THE STORY of one of the greatest sport years in the history of the University of Connecticut:

Head Coach Hugh Greer and his basketball team were playing big-time colleges on their home court during the Christmas vacation . . . Manhattan, Pittsburgh, Muhlenberg . . . They had already met Yale and Brown; and Buffalo, Rhode Island, Wayne and Dartmouth remained to be played . . . Shortly after the first contest of the Yule vacation, University President Albert N. Jorgensen announced that J. O. Christian, head coach of football for the past fifteen years, had been made Director of Intercollegiate Athletics; George Van Bibber, whose position Christian had filled, was made Director of the new School of Physical Education . . .

Times change, and with it, conceptions . . . Only a short time before those big-time basketball attractions on the serene Storrs campus, the entire state and the greater part of New England had been rocked by the gigantic upheaval in the athletic department at Connecticut. Connecticut, the college long on tradition but short on athletic prowess, had removed its Mother Hubbard wraps of poverty on the gridiron . . . Her children were living, now, in the newest of dormitories, studying in beautifully remodeled classrooms. Arthur Valpey, Head Coach at ivy-shrouded Harvard for two years, was lured to the up-and-coming University of Connecticut . . . And the Husky basketball team whipped Dartmouth, Rhode Island, Wayne and Brown . . . The track team, for the first time in the history of the school, won two indoor track meets. And while they were winning, President Jorgensen was announcing that in the near future the team would have a new, ultra-modern field house to practice in . . . Hawley Armory would pass into oblivion.

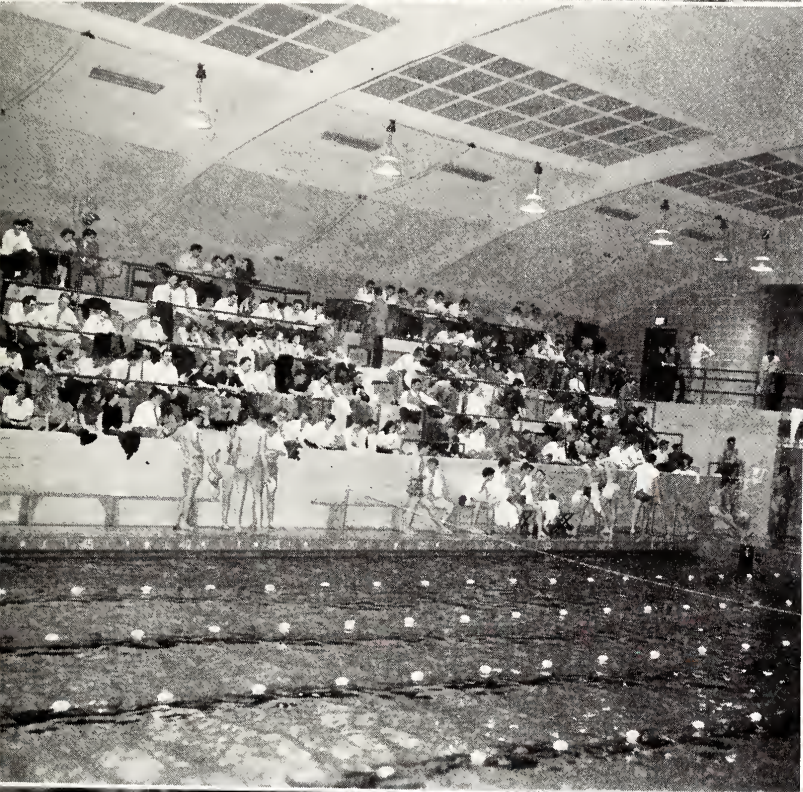

Fencing was added to our rapidly expanding sports program . . . In soccer we placed a man on the All-American squad for the second year in a row . . . Our golf team copped the Yankee Conference title for the second straight time . . . Plans for a new football stadium, seating 20,000, were disclosed . . . The cross country team, turned in one of its greatest records, and won the Connecticut Valley Championships.

A jumping-jack sophomore from Bloomfield, Connecticut, by the name of Vincent Yokabaskas, broke immortal Walt Dropo's all-time scoring record in basketball . . . Roy Guyer's fabulous archery team easily won the Intercollegiate Outdoor Championship for the twelfth year in succession . . .

Some call it the first earmarks of so-called "big-time" athletics on the rolling campus of Storrs. Others prefer to say it was just the natural growth following a great war. UConn grew academically while it grew athletically.

One of the most beautiful Physical Education buildings in the country was thrown open to the bulging student body. Housed within the magnificent structure is a Hollywood-like swimming pool that seats 1000 people . . . three huge basketball courts which handle one of the best intramural programs a college can provide its students . . . new offices, more help.

Truly, times have changed at Connecticut. It's a big school now.

Football

Yale 26

Connecticut 0

Connecticut's fevered hopes of a quick crash into the "big-time" fell dismally on the 25th of September when Yale University whipped the Huskies, 26-0, before 35,000 fans in the Yale Bowl.

After holding the vaunted Elis to a skimpy 7-0 victory the previous season, hopes were sky-high for a UConn triumph this Fall, but once again the Bulldogs proved they were still out of the reach of the growing state university.

Bobbie Zeleznikar and Leroy Tulp had the Connecticut fans buzzing in the early stages of the contest when they alternated in carrying the ball right to the Yale doorstep, only to lose possession by fumbling on the three-yard line.

Then Yale went to work. Bob Spears, Yale fullback, scored the first touchdown, and the Bulldogs added another in nothing flat when they recovered another costly U.C. fumble on the 17-yard line. Yale added a pair of scores in the second half to turn the game into a one-sided affair.

Even more disastrous than the defeat for the Huskies was the loss of three regulars—one for the remainder of the season. Charley Wolfe, a three-letterman and captain of the Yale game, suffered a broken left wrist on the first play following the kickoff, and the Middletown athlete never returned to uniform. Charley played a guard position.

Quarterback Jackie Hollfelder received a bad cut over his right eye in the second quarter and was sent to the New Haven Hospital. It was his last game. Zeleznikar was the third of the Nutmeggers to leave the game with an injury. Bob sustained a bad bruise on his thigh and failed to participate in the next game. As a matter of fact, that injury kept Duluth, Minnesota on the bench for three full games during the course of the season.

A sophomore quarterback, Ray Good, an ex-Marine, displayed a fine defensive brand of ball to come out as one of the stars of the season's opener.

Connecticut 14 American International 0

An expected breather for the squad following the big Yale game proved to be just the opposite as a stubborn American International College team held the Huskies to a slim, 14-0 triumph. There was nothing spectacular about the Connecticut win. Except for the fine running of Paul Martha and some good defensive work by Thad Sobieski, Frank DeZenzo and John Blake of the Huskies, the game was dull and listless for the 4,500 fans who witnessed the home opener.

Martha, a shifty left halfback from Wallingford scored one UConn touchdown, scampering 11 yards. The other touchdown came when Hank Zaleski flipped a 53-yard scoring pass to DeZenzo.

Springfield 26 Connecticut 7

The lead taken from the story which appeared in the CONNECTICUT CAMPUS newspaper perhaps best describes the third game of the season: "Springfield, Mass.—A lightning-fast, crisp-blocking Springfield College football team out-ran, and generally out-played, a poorly functioning Connecticut eleven 26-7."

Connecticut held the Redmen to a mere 54 yards net rushing the first half and trailed, 7-0, at the half. But the last two quarters produced 214 yards and three more touchdowns for Springfield as the Connecticut defense fell apart.

Paced by tiny Bobby Dagostino, who gained 167 yards and scored two of the touchdowns, the Bay State team had little trouble beating the Connecticut squad.

Hank Zaleski and Frank DeZenzo, for the second week in a row, furnished the only noticeable football that the home fans could cheer about. Zaleski chucked a 15-yard pass to DeZenzo, and the Bridgeport end ran the remaining 50 yards for the only Connecticut marker of the afternoon.

During the rout, the Huskies fumbled the ball seven times. Clearly, they missed Charley Wolfe and Jack Hollfelder.

Connecticut 12

Maine 12

Walt Trojanowski, the rambling Connecticut full-back who had set the nation's individual scoring pace in 1945, was rambling again. Although the UConns were picked over Maine by most of the prognosticators, the Bears, under their new coach Davey Nelson, had the Huskies rocking in the last period with a 12-6 lead.

The Trojanowski, who had returned to school following a long absence, went to work. He bulldozed his way up and down the gridiron and finally with two minutes remaining in the game, The Trojan plowed ten yards through the middle of the Maine line to give Connecticut a tie. With this tie went a share of Connecticut's first Yankee Conference football title. Connecticut and Maine finished the season with identical "2 and 1" records to share the crown.

Connecticut 125

Newport Naval T.S. 0

The twice defeated Connecticut juggernaut scuttled Newport Naval Training Station, 125-0 (that's right, 125-0) before 3,500 rain-soaked fans at Gardner Dow Field. The unbelieving UConn boosters watched as the heavier and much faster White Knights battered the outclassed sailors from stem to stern.

The score broke every existing record in the Connecticut books, and perhaps a few national marks as well. Tackle Matt Johnson scored 14 points, all on extra points. Carmen Abate kicked off 17 times for the Blue and White. In all, Connecticut gained 469 yards on the ground and 100 through the air. A total of 18 touchdowns and one safety were scored. Frankie Alu was the outstanding back of the afternoon as he score three touchdowns, one on a 51-yard dash and another good for 42. Thirteen players took part in the scoring.

Kent State 27

Connecticut 0

The 1949 football squad became the first team in the history of the school to travel by air, but their opposition, Kent State of Kent, Ohio, were not impressed as they tagged a 27-0 licking on the invaders from the East.

This was the second meeting between the two inter-sectional rivals, and the Huskies were out to avenge a stinging 42-26 setback by the same eleven a year ago. But avenge they did not. Wilbur Little, sensational Negro tailback who plagued the Huskies in 1948, again was the main attraction as he scored two touchdowns and set up a third.

Paul Martha and Walt Trojanowski paced the Huskie attack with 168 yards between them.

Connecticut 23

Rhode Island 0

A hard-charging Connecticut line set up two Connecticut touchdowns within the enemy eight-yard line as the University of Connecticut hung a 23-0 shutout on arch-rival Rhode Island State College. It gave the UConn six straight victories over Rhode Island.

George Blueher, Connecticut's stellar guard, pounced on a Ram fumble on the four-yard line early in the first period, and two plays later his team was leading, 6-0. Again in the final quarter, Dom Rosa recovered a fumble on the Rhode Island eight, and in four plays UConn scored.

Bob Zeleznikar, playing his first game in three weeks scored the first UConn touchdown. Connecticut advanced within the 35-yard line on three occasions, but each time the tough Rhode Island line held.

Charley Christensen scored the second Connecticut tally on a 16-yard pass from Leo Pinsky. Before Zeleznikar was able to score his last touchdown from the one yard line, the Huskie line scored its second safety of the year when they trapped a Rhode Island half-back in his own end zone. This totaled the 23 points as Matt Johnson had a perfect day with "3 for 3" conversions.

Connecticut 27

New Hampshire 7

A Connecticut football team that could do nothing wrong this frosty November afternoon hammered out a lop-sided 27-7 decision over New Hampshire University to gain a share of the Yankee Conference crown before 7,500 roaring fans on Gardner Dow Field.

Playing before the largest crowd of the season that had come to witness the annual Dad's Day and its collegiate shenanigans, the White Knights exploded for three touchdowns in the second half after coming from behind to tie the score at 7-7 before the half.

Sparked by the brilliant running of Walt Trojanowski, Bob Zeleznikar and Matt Banovetz, and the equally outstanding defensive work of Thad Sobieski, George Blueher, Frank DeZenzo, Johnny Blake and Ray Wolcott, the Huskies took the measure of the Durham team for the first time in 22 years. Not since 1927 — ten games — had the Huskies beaten New Hampshire.

Charley Christensen, Connecticut end, scored the UConn's first marker when he took a pass from Dick Gaudino and wiggled 45 yards.

In the hectic second half, Gaudino put Connecticut ahead to stay by scooting for a touchdown. Trojanowski crashed over for the third Connecticut touchdown, and Zeleznikar finished the scoring with a 54-yard romp after taking a punt. Matt Johnson booted "3 for 4" during the contest.

Ohio Wesleyan 43

Connecticut 12

Connecticut's football team ran into a red-hot Ohio Wesleyan team in Delaware, Ohio, and came out on the short end of a 43-12 score to close the 1949 grid season. Making their second trip of the year to Ohio, the Nutmeggers were treated even more rudely than they had been by Kent State.

The Battling Bishops had little difficulty penetrating the UConn forward wall, piling up 265 yards rushing. Little Bobbie MacFarland, a 135-lb. package of dynamite, was just too much for Connecticut to handle. In the air the winners were just as effective, gaining 176 yards.

Bob Wesowicz, sophomore guard, scored one UConn touchdown when he gathered in a pop-fumble at mid-field and rumbled all the way. Bob Zeleznikar completed seven passes for a total of 92 yards.

This marked the end of the campaign for the squad and it gave them a "4-4-1" record.

After the last football had been tucked away, veterans George Blueher and Charley Wolfe were named honorary co-captains for the season. Both of the boys played guard positions and both had completed four years of football for the University.

Further honors came to the squad when the first annual Hartford Courant All-State Small College All-Star team was selected. Voted berths on the mythical team were Frank DeZenzo (end), George Blueher and Thad Sobieski (tackle). DeZenzo and Sobieski were given honorable mentions on several of the All-New England teams.

S o c c e r

JUNE GRADUATION raised havoc with the 1948 National Championship soccer team. Lost to the squad were All-Americans Porty Pratt and Stewart Johnson. Also missing from the greatest soccer team the University has ever had were Don Grant an All-New England goalie and Larry Dubuc. The team and coach Jack Squires had four gaping holes to fill. But lest you get the idea the sport was to be abandoned, the Huskies were rated one of the top teams in the United States even before the season had started. You see, they had two All-Americans returning and two others who were selected on the All-New England team. They also had a 12-game winning streak going that every college on their schedule wanted to snap.

Although the team did not repeat as National Champions, they were nonetheless champions. They won seven games, lost three and tied one. They played the best that New England, and the Ivy League, had to offer.

Connecticut 5

Dartmouth 0

A good Dartmouth eleven was rated "even" to end the UConn streak right of the reel, but paced by All-American Merritt "Mike" Baldwin, Connecticut set down Dartmouth easily.

This ran their streak to 13 straight games and from all appearances, the booters had another great team.

Connecticut 2

Yale 1

The Huskies made fun of Ivy League soccer for the second game in a row as they humbled arch-rival Yale before 3,000 Storrs fans.

Jon Ohms gave the Connecticut rooters a once-in-a-lifetime thrill when he booted a goal from 35 yards out. George Cleveland, one of the outstanding soccer players of the year, booted in a score for the second straight game.

Connecticut 5

Williams 0

Playing before 800 fans on Gardner Dow Field the Huskies romped to a 5-0 win over previously unbeaten Williams College. The win extended Connecticut's streak to 15 straight.

All-American Carlos Fetterolf booted in two goals to bring his season's total to four and George Cleveland added another to push his consecutive scoring streak to three games.

Connecticut 1

Harvard 0

George Cleveland, center forward, calmly booted in a penalty kick with 58 seconds remaining in the first half to give Connecticut its 16th straight soccer triumph, a 1-0 squeaker over Harvard.

Harvard was the third Ivy League team to fall before the Huskies this season. The game was an exciting contest that provided fine defensive work by both teams. High winds on the Huskies' home field made it difficult for either team to launch a steady attack.

Connecticut 4

Massachusetts 1

Against UMass, the Huskies ran their streak to 17 straight games. Three of the Connecticut goals came as the result of spectacular "throw-ins" by Carlos Fetterolf and Mike Baldwin. George Cleveland scored another goal to extend his personal streak to five consecutive games.

Brown 3

Connecticut 2

One of the greatest strings of athletic victories by a Connecticut team was ended in Providence on the 26th of October when a mediocre Brown University soccer team upset Connecticut, 3-2 in the last 16 seconds of the game.

With the score tied 2-2, the Bruins made a quick thrust into UConn territory, and in an ensuing scuffle in front of the cage, the ball bounced off a Connecticut defender and into the nets. This was the first defeat inflicted upon a Connecticut soccer team since 1947.

A wet, soggy field hampered Connecticut's speedy attack. But there were no excuses offered by the players themselves. Brown, winner of only one game, played an aggressive brand of ball and took advantage of every Connecticut misplay.

Springfield 4

Connecticut 1

Springfield College tacked a 4-1 defeat on the Huskies in Springfield, Mass. It was a big win for the Maroons, who had lost their national crown to Connecticut the previous year. The defensive work of Jim Blozie was easily the outstanding performance of the day.

Connecticut 7

Clark 0

The Huskies came back strong the following week to dump Clark University, 7-0. It was the highest score of the year for Connecticut.

Connecticut 3

M. I. T. 3

Dale Aborn scored his first two goals of the season for the Nutmeggers, and big ones they were. With only seconds remaining in the game, and his team trailing by a 3-2 score, Aborn kicked in his second goal of the afternoon to give the Huskies a 3-3 tie and save them from an upset.

Wesleyan 0

The Huskies gained their seventh win of the year by edging a good Wesleyan soccer team in Middletown. The contest was one of the best of the season as both squads turned in spectacular defensive plays. Tommy Nevers and Jim Blozie, along with Paul Salling and goalie Herb Tschummi, staved off repeated Wesleyan rallies after Mike Baldwin booted in the only goal.

Little Marv Kirshman played one of the best games of his career, setting-up and kicking-out brilliantly.

Havana 1

Connecticut 0

A touring University of Havana team put on a dazzling display of footwork and passing before 2,000 Connecticut rooters, but only managed a 1-0 victory for their efforts.

Although you don't read it in the box scores and summaries, the UConns played spectacular soccer. Paul Salling, Carlos Fetterolf, Jim Blozie and Mike Baldwin played the greater part of the season with crippling injuries. Jon Ohms was hurt during the later stages of the year and Jack Squires, soccer coach, was forced to use several untested sophomores.

Then, too, the Huskies lost a regular halfback just before the Brown game when John Tedford left for California to enter a National Dairy Contest.

New England coaches and writers expressed their true feeling towards this fine, Connecticut team when they voted four UConns to the All-New England team. Carlos Fetterolf, Mike Baldwin and Jim Blozie made the team for the second year in a row, and George Cleveland was the fourth player to make the squad. Jon Ohms was named to the second team.

Blozie, a highly competitive athlete from South Windsor and one of the greatest players in the school's history, also landed a position on the All-American.

Swimming

PERHAPS THE BIGGEST thing during the 1949-50 swimming season was the christening of the new pool in the million-dollar physical education building.

And then perhaps next in line for mention was the unheard of action of calling a swimming meet off because of the lack of water. New York University, with the metropolitan area in the middle of a serious water shortage due to the lack of rain, was forced to cancel its match with the Huskies.

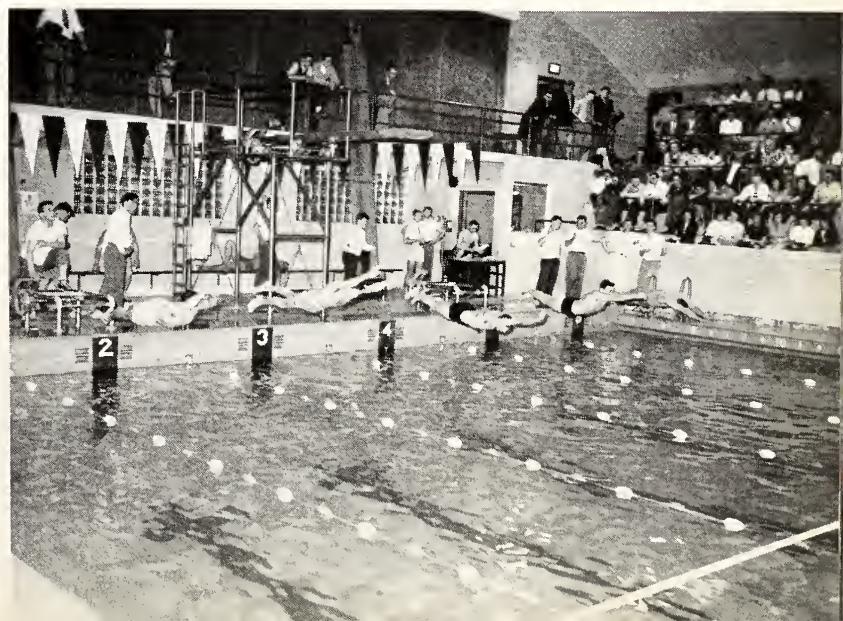

But elsewhere along the line, Connecticut won four meets and lost five. What started out as an excellent squad quickly dwindled to a mediocre team when five lettermen for various reasons failed to compete.

With the christening of the new pool came new records in all events. Jimmy MacNamee, a sophomore, was the outstanding swimmer on the team. Among the top point getters were Bart Schmidt (freestyle), Bill Anderson (freestyle) and Dave Squires (backstroke).

Bart Schmidt, a senior, was awarded the plaque which is annually presented by the University to the swimmer who has made the greatest contribution during the year to the sport of swimming.

Track

CONNECTICUT, confined to training in the smallish and antiquated Hawley Armory, had never before in the history of the school won more than one indoor track meet in a season. The 1950 squad won two, sweeping Wesleyan and Massachusetts.

Moving outdoors, Connecticut continued to win as it never had before. The expansion of all athletics at Connecticut was typified by this track team that had improved with the growth of the school in spite of poor facilities.

Once on the Gardner Dow Track, the UConns romped to four straight dual victories over Massachusetts ($91\frac{1}{2}$ - $42\frac{1}{2}$), Coast Guard (81-54), Wesleyan ($76\frac{1}{2}$ - $58\frac{1}{2}$), and Worcester Tech ($88\frac{1}{2}$ - $37\frac{1}{2}$).

The Huskies closed the season with two losses, but they lost to squads with a fine reputation in track, Williams and Springfield.

Bruno Giordano, who had paced the UConns to a good cross country season, also guided the track squad. The Stamford youth broke the two-mile record. Carlos Fetterolf, holder of the school dash record of :09.7, won the two biggest races of the track year, the Yankee Conference and the New Englands. Fetterolf, although beaten by his teammate, Franny Flynn, three times during the season, came through in the big races and won the 100-yard dash.

Cross Country

PACED BY smooth-striding Bruno Giordano, and with plenty of help from Howie Rubin and Adolph Grimm, the Connecticut cross country squad enjoyed one of its most successful seasons in the past ten years.

Giordano, a 21-year-old junior from Stamford, was an individual first place winner in six of Connecticut's eight matches, and did not finish lower than second in dual competition. He placed fourth in the New Englands. Rubin, a senior, and Grimm, a sophomore, were consistently in the top five.

The team opened the season unauspiciously, losing to Wesleyan and Brown. Only three points represented the difference between UConn and Wesleyan.

The Huskies then proceeded to whip Northeastern and Coast Guard. They dropped their third meet of the year when Rhode Island State College beat them by a single point.

Connecticut then led six other colleges to the wire in the Connecticut Valley Championships. Boston University brought an undefeated cross country squad to Storrs and went away beaten 26-29 (low score wins). As a team, the Huskies placed third in the New Englands. The following Saturday they finished second in the six-team Yankee Conference showdown, and then wound up the campaign with a 26-29 victory over Springfield College.

COMING BACK with ten lettermen from 1949's team that won 13 games, the University of Connecticut baseball team was decidedly a disappointment. It would have been a complete flop had not the Huskies stamped themselves with a dash of immortality by becoming the first team in Connecticut history to beat Yale University in baseball.

Trailing 3-1 in the last inning of the New Haven games, the Huskies, sparked by Stan Sorota, came up with a big 4-run inning to nip the Bulldogs 5-4.

Other than their fine performance over Yale, the UConns, pitifully weak in pitching, lost eight of their 15 games. Dick Love, a three-year man, was the only experienced pitcher coach J. O. Christian could go with.

Despite the record, the UConns, with a better than fair offensive, were always a threat. Not only did they win the big one against Yale, but they copped two games from arch-rival Rhode Island State.

Basketball

THE 1950 University of Connecticut basketball team proved to be one of the winningest, most colorful squads this serene campus has ever had.

Hugh Greer, the UConn's popular coach who was starting his third full season, was blessed with a wealth of material, but was also faced with the toughest schedule the Huskies had ever undertaken. The coach, who two years in a row had set a new record for the most games won in a single season, had six lettermen around which to mold another club, but then there were such basketball powerhouses as Yale, Brown, Dartmouth, Manhattan, Muhlenberg, Pittsburgh, Wayne, and Rhode Island State to contend with.

It wasn't all roses for the Connecticut squad. As a matter of fact, even the most loyal of the team boosters wouldn't wager a hill of beans the Huskies would have a winning year after a disastrous early season start which saw Connecticut losing five straight contests.

As predicted, the squad rang in the new season with resounding success, easily whipping American International College, Springfield and Tufts.

Then came the drought. The floundering Huskies lost to Brown, Yale, Manhattan, Pittsburgh and Muhlenberg. A master strategist, Greer took his Huskies by the leash and engineered as fine a rebuilding job as any coach has ever done.

Junking his set patterns and orthodox defense, Greer employed a full-court press which saw the Huskies hounding their opponent all over the hardwoods. Considerable juggling was done with the various line-ups, and when the job was completed, Connecticut proceeded to raise havoc between two baskets.

Scoring high and guarding closely, the Huskies were molded into a whippet-lean, basket-hungry crew. Playing the game with the throttle wide open, Greer was forced to use his entire bench of fifteen players in almost every game, and as the record shows, he handled his substitutions flawlessly.

Following those five straight defeats, Connecticut roared back to win 14 of their last 17 games and gain for themselves a rating as the number two basketball team of New England behind Holy Cross.

The season produced several new records. A dead-eyed sophomore, Vinny Yokabaskas, scored 417 points to shatter Walt Dropo's mark for points scored in a single season. Then too, the Huskies ripped Boston University 107-67 to establish a record for the most points scored in one game.

Connecticut 66 - AIC 51

Vinny Yokabaskas wasted no time in starting his all-time scoring record as he swished 15 points through the hoops to pace the Huskies to an easy win over AIC. Stan Sorota, starting his fourth varsity year, scored 11 points, while Wally Widholm added 10.

Connecticut 56 - Springfield 36

Pete Lind led the Connecticut squad this time, scoring 14 tallies. In all, 13 players took part in the scoring, but Yokabaskas was held to a paltry three, the only time of the season he would go below double figures.

Connecticut 56 - Tufts 39

Tufts College of Medford, Mass., brought a team that averaged 6'3" into the huge Storrs Cage for the third game of the season and the Blue and White responded with a sound, 56-39 triumph. Eddie Lip-tak a sharp-eyed transfer from Fort Trumbull, pulled the game out in the second half by netting 11 points. Wally Widholm tied for scoring honors with 11.

Brown 69 - Connecticut 59

A red-hot Brown team pinned the first loss of the year on the UConns in Marvel Gymnasium in Providence. Led by the matchless Francis "Moe" Mahoney, the Bruins poured it on in the early stages of the game and led 37-21 at the half. Connecticut made a torrid drive in the second half, but Brown was not to be denied. Mahoney canned 21 points in the victory, while Eddie Gates paced Connecticut with 18.

Yale 62 - Connecticut 44

Connecticut never did get into the ball game, and arch-rival Yale fashioned an easy victory over the weak-shooting Huskies, who could only manage to hit 16 per cent of their shots from the floor. Gates and Yokabaskas caged ten points apiece, while Teddy Anderson was getting 16 for Eli.

Manhattan 71 - Connecticut 56

Meeting the first of three intersectional opponents over the Christmas Holidays, Connecticut turned in a good, sound game of basketball, but couldn't match the Jaspers in the late stages of the contest. UConn trailed by a 55-51 score with five minutes to play, but

"Ducks" does it again against New Hampshire.

Charlie Muzikevik, Coach Hugh Greer and Jim Connors.

deadly shooting from the outside and control of the backboards enabled the visitors to pull away. Yokabaskas again led his team with 19 points.

Pittsburgh 52 - Connecticut 35

Although Connecticut was playing its seventh game of the season, Pittsburgh, a team that was opening their own season, gave the Huskies a lesson in set-patterns, playmaking and deft passing.

Like clockwork, the Pitt crew worked off their pivot man to count on easy "duck" shots under the basket. Pitt led at the half, 33-13 and then coasted to the win.

Muhlenberg 73 - Connecticut 61

A veteran Muhlenberg College team provided the opposition, and the 1,600 fans who saw the contest were completely satisfied with night of basketball to which they had been treated. The Huskies played their finest game of the season against the Mules from Allentown, Penn. Yokabaskas (by this time dubbed "Yogi-Baskets") put on an exhibition of shooting that netted 26 points. George Mackin, a red-hot substitute who came off the bench in the second quarter, scored 19 points.

Connecticut 65 - Maine 56

A vastly improved University of Maine team fell before a Connecticut squad that were attempting desperately to shake off their five game losing streak. Connecticut won, but they did it the hard way, by running the Black Bears into the floor. Under a new coach, the Bears had a brand-spanking new offense and came into the Connecticut game undefeated. They had won four straight.

Rhode Island 83 - Connecticut 65

Frank Keaney, the immortal race horse coach of the Rhody Rams was no longer on the basketball scene, but traces of his style were very evident this night in Rodman Hall. Rhode Island set a scorching pace in the second half to turn the game into a rout after the half-time score of 37-34. Yokabaskas, and Rhode Island's Don Shannon dazzled the packed house with spectacular shooting. Each boy scored 27 points for his team. The UConn record was now "4 and 6."

Connecticut 65 - Wayne 47

Connecticut copped its fifth victory of the season before a home crowd by whipping Wayne University of Detroit, Michigan. Yokabaskas was high man for the UConns, but the outstanding player on the court was Dick Hall, Wayne's 6'3" center, who scored 19 points.

Larry "Chuck" Miller, a sophomore, scored nine points for the Huskies.

Massachusetts 61 - Connecticut 57

Connecticut was ready to bring its record back to a .500 basis at Amherst, but the Redmen, who hadn't won a game from Connecticut in ten years, had different ideas. And they had their way. Hustling all the way, and shooting better than 40 per cent from the floor, the Yankee Conference opponent all but knocked UConn out of the picture for a repeat on the title. In defeat, Yokabaskas was at his best, scoring 27 points.

Connecticut 77 - Northeastern 40

This was the start of a five-game winning streak for the UConns. Paced by Hank Bartnicki, who dipped 15 points, the Huskies won easily.

Connecticut 73 - New Hampshire 35

Continuing their hot scoring tempo, the Huskies maintained their mastery over the Wildcats. The New Hampshire team has not beaten Connecticut in 17 years.

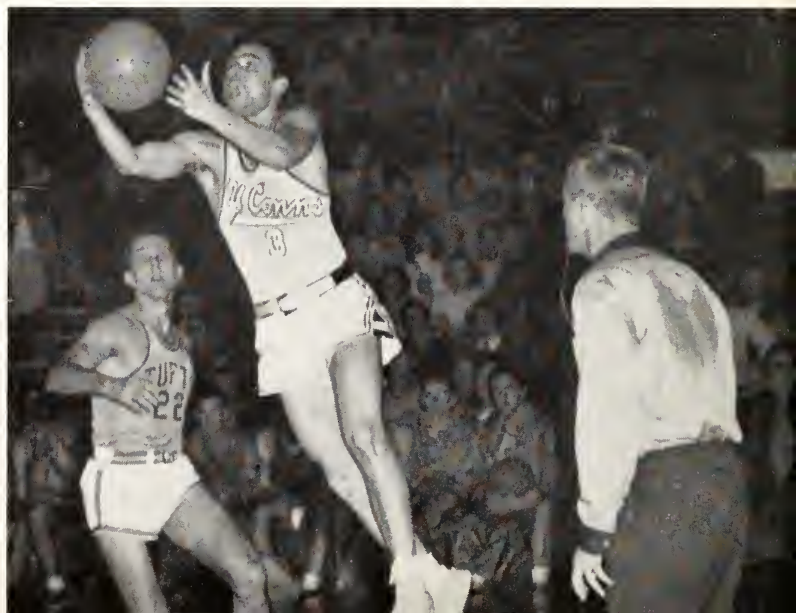

Connecticut 56 - Buffalo 40

The Huskies hit the road for the second time during the season and won a hard-earned victory over Buffalo. In comparatively "big-time" company, the Huskies showed the Buffalo fans what colorful basketball was. The full court press stymied the New Yorkers. Bartnicki was high scorer with 13 points. The Huskies were now ahead of themselves in games won and lost.

Connecticut 78 - Dartmouth 71

Hanover, New Hampshire, hoop enthusiasts saw the racy Storrs club at its best. In the opinion of this writer, who saw every game of the season, the Dartmouth victory was the greatest basketball game Connecticut played during the season. It had to be great. They were playing Ivy League basketball . . . and at one stage of the first period Connecticut was trailing, 19-3. Surely it appeared as though a 16-point lead was good enough even against a high-scoring team. But once Stan Sorota had stolen three passes in succession to score six points, the Big Green couldn't stop Hugh Greer's team.

Yokabaskas scored 19 points, Sorota 11, and Pete Lind 11.

Connecticut 61 - Vermont 44

Playing away from home didn't seem to bother Connecticut, and the next night in Burlington, Vermont, they coasted to their fifth straight win. Yokabaskas added 23 points to his rapidly growing total.

Springfield 59 - Connecticut 58

Riding on the crest of a five-game winning streak, the University of Connecticut hoop squad ran into a vengeful Springfield College five. The Maroons were a vastly improved club and with a home-court advantage, they managed to nip the Huskies in the final seconds of the contest.

Yokabaskas, who scored 18 points, and Gates, who had six, fouled out early in the second half. To be sure, it was one of the most exciting games of the season.

This loss prevented the UConns from finishing the year with 13 straight wins. After the one-point defeat, they won the next seven games in a row.

Connecticut 74 - Brown 60

This time it was Connecticut's turn for revenge, as the saying goes, and they did it with the precision of a machine, walloping Brown, 74-60.

Yokabaskas was fast approaching a new record as he swished another 21 points through the nets. Pete Lind scored 15. Despite the win, the Huskies could not stop Francis Mahoney, who chucked in 20 points.

Connecticut 82 - Wesleyan 58

Connecticut's scoring was in high gear now, and the Huskies all but demolished an outclassed Wesleyan University team. Playing only a little more than half of the game, "Yogi" dumped in 18 points, while Pete Lind came up with 12 and his sub, Jim Murphy, added 11.

Connecticut 77 - Bates 70

Bates scared the sweat suits right off the Huskies this night in Lewiston, Maine. Not highly regarded in New England college circles, Bates extended Connecticut to its utmost. With only two minutes left to play, the score was tied at 67-all. It was tied again at 69, and once more at 70 before Stan Sorota, who is always there in the clutch, stole the ball twice for two quick baskets to clinch the game. Yokabaskas scored 23 more, while Sorota hooped 14.

Connecticut 67 - Maine 58

Howie Silverstein, a little 5'8" transfer from two-year Samson College, came into his own at Orono this cold February night. Howie, a sub at the beginning of the season, was now playing regular. The little whiz amazed the fans with his unorthodox style of shooting and his clever passing.

He had the Maine field house in an uproar as Connecticut jumped off to a 23-5 lead in the first ten minutes. He scored four times on long shots.

Connecticut 107 - Boston University 67

How do you go about describing a team that scores 107 points in a single game? Five players scored in double figures; Stan Sorota leading the way with 17. He was followed by "Yogi" (16), Clark (13), Gates (12), and Lind (11). The Huskies threw everything but the opposing coach through the rims. Eddie Gates swished five straight set shots from outside, Clark couldn't miss, and every player who came off the bench was sizzling. It broke the old record of 94 points in a single game (New Hampshire).

Connecticut 74 - Rhode Island 71

When you're old and gray and you begin swapping stories of the spine tingling rivalry between Connecticut and Rhode Island, sure to head the list as one of the most fanatic and fantastic struggles on the court is the game of February 25, 1950, in the huge Storrs Cage.

Beautiful floor work, nifty passing, break-neck speed, dead-eye shooting, color—all this was part of the game in the Cage that night.

Connecticut was really pouring it on. At one stage of the game the Huskies led by 17 points. But you never walk out on a UConn-Ram game.

Then it was Rhody's turn to get hot. The score melted in the heat, and it came right down to the wire. The score was tied at 71-71 with 16 seconds left to play. Howie Silverstein had committed a personal foul against Bill Shannon. Shannon was in the act of shooting, and when Howie protested to the referee, he was charged with a technical. This gave Rhode Island three free throws with the clock stopped, and of course possession of the ball due to the highly disputed two-minute rule which had been adopted by the NCAA at the season's start.

What would you wager on the chances of Rhode Island missing all three free tosses . . . especially with their great captain Bruce Blount getting one of them? But that's just what they did.

The 4,000 fans who bulged the sides of the field house went berserk. With less than ten seconds left to play, Hank Bartnicki was fouled. He dropped the ball through the hoop to give Connecticut a 72-71 lead with six seconds left. In those six seconds Sorota was fouled twice and scored each time to clinch what many will call the greatest Connecticut-Rhode Island game. Yokabaskas, playing his best when the chips were down, scored 27 points. This gave the "Yog" a total of 54 points in two games against the Rams this season.

Connecticut 82 - MIT 44

Yokabaskas, who had already broken Droppo's record, fattened the gap between the new and old by getting 22 points. Pete Lind, who finished with over 200 points, and Stan Sorota, who had just played his ninetieth varsity game for the University of Connecticut, turned in their uniforms for the last time.

Pete Lind goes up to score two against Springfield.

Fencing

FOLLOWING TWO YEARS of planning and organization in the form of a club, fencing was placed on an inter-collegiate basis for the first time in the history of the University.

The entry of fencing into the rank of a letter sport was itself a story of achievement. It was, mainly, the work of Paul Anderson and John Gregoropoulos, who were later named co-captains of the squad.

George Van Bibber, then director of athletics, drew up a seven-match schedule for the team, and on the 17th of January, 1950, Connecticut met Wesleyan University. The Huskies were defeated by a score of 17-10.

In their next match Connecticut faced Yale University, a school that had an established reputation in the sport and lost after a commendable showing, 17½-10½.

As the season progressed, the squad improved under the supervision of Gregory Timoshenko and Benjamin Collins, members of the faculty. The third set-to of the campaign provided a real thriller as M.I.T. nipped the Nutmeggers 14-13.

Then came the first victory. Handling themselves in nimble fashion, the team whipped Bowdoin College, 15½-11½. To prove this was no fluke, the fencers made it two straight by drubbing Boston University, 17-10, and before the lifted eyebrows had been lowered, the Huskies did it again by making Fordham University their third straight triumph, 15½-11½.

Williams College kept the season from being an overwhelming success by winning, 16-11. But in their first year of competition, Paul Anderson, John Gregoropoulos, Joe Jannetty, George Ornstein, Bill Cuffe, Bob DeAngeles, Paul Rabenold, Bob Tiernan and Don Zelechowsky had started the University of Connecticut off on what should be a fine future in the art of fencing.

Rifle Team

The UConn golf squad that won the Yankee Conference championship for the second straight year.

CONNECTICUT'S GOLF TEAM, for the second year in a row, walked off with the Yankee Conference championship. It was the climax of one of the sport's greatest years in the history of the school.

Paced by the four-ply efforts of Johnny Pracon, Paul Harris, Dick Ziello and Ed Zaklukiewicz, the Huskies rolled over the greens for seven dual match victories as against only two setbacks. The only golf squads to beat Connecticut were Yale and Amherst.

Johnny Pracon, defending individual champ in the Yankee Conference, lost his crown by a single stroke.

Women's Sports

NATIONAL CHAMPS in 1949, the University of Connecticut Archery Club lost its title to Cleveland, Ohio, this year. Unfortunately for our club, Jane Weber was just recovering from a broken leg at the time of competition and was limited in her performance. However, the remainder of the team, coached by Roy J. Guyer came through admirably.

A field hockey clinic at the University was sponsored by Miss Josephine Rogers, head of the Women's Physical Education Department. Thirteen high schools were invited to UConn to play one another and to be coached in correct field hockey techniques.

Intramural sports have been carried on enthusiastically this year, with the sororities and women's residence halls participating, particularly in baseball and basketball.

The Student Senate

THE STUDENT SENATE is the policy-making arm of the Associated Student Government and is specifically responsible for the expenditure of the 10.00 yearly student activities fee. It also is charged with the task of ascertaining student opinion on important issues and of communicating that opinion to the faculty and administration if they are involved.

This last year the Student Senate has been constantly active in initiating new services and improving the old. Among other things the whole financial policy was written down and numerous additions made to bring it into line with current needs. A new accounting system was instituted under the capable direction of Don Molchan, the Central Treasurer. An attempt was made to revive the moribund Connecticutclub, and elsewhere in the social field, the Senate helped various organizations to better plan their dances so that no really unsuccessful social events were held during the year. Under the aegis of the Senate a new subordinate governing body was organized in North Campus which helped to coordinate and prepare athletic and social programs for the local dorms. These social events were combined with student activities offered under the Senate direction such as the CAMPUS, WHUS, Touchstone, and a large variety of recreational and semi-educational organizations ranging from a Chess Club to foreign language groups, to provide a program which would appeal to almost all students.

Also during the year the Senate made considerable progress in its efforts to effect a better understanding between students and administration on some of the all-University problems such as the Dining Halls, the proposed new Student Union Building, Athletics and Public Relations. Other related functions included a highly successful Course Critique, Freshman Orientation, Dad's Day, and the Community Chest and Carnival.

As President Fred Whitehouse said when leaving, "It's been a good year and one in which the entire Senate has actively attempted to meet its responsibility to the student body."

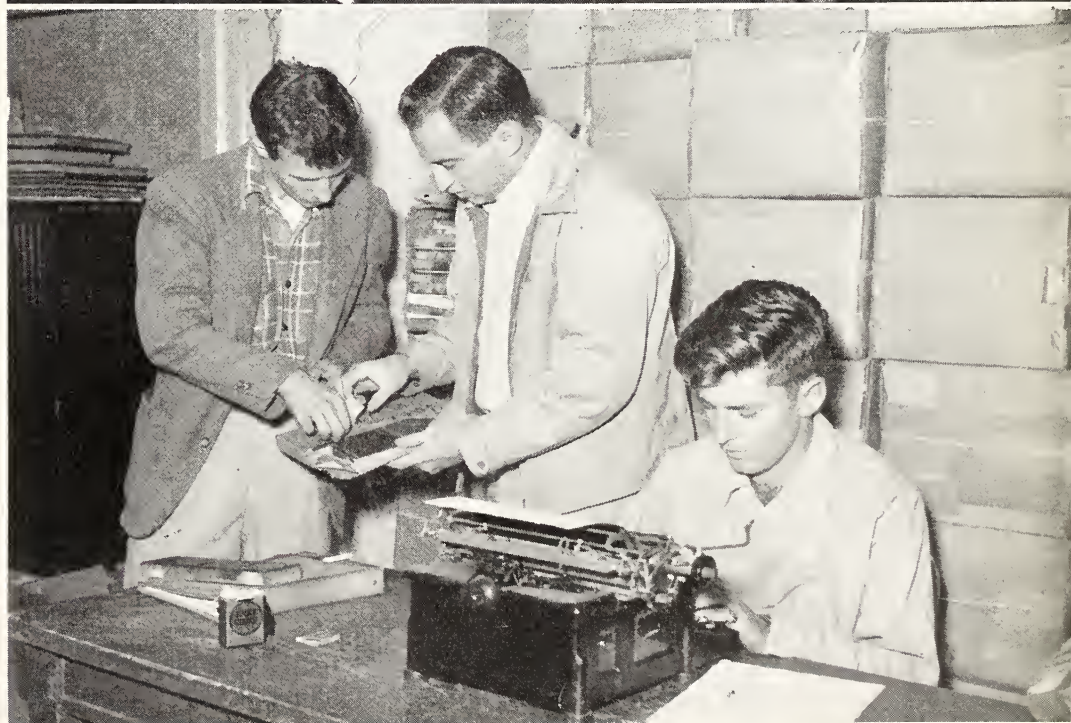

Robert Garvey, Fred Whitehouse, and Carroll Caffrey, moderator of the senate, engage in a serious discussion of senate affairs.

The Connecticut Campus

"Is this where I'm supposed to hand in my junior write-up?" Hordes of people jabbering in the office—where's our partition—somebody want to do a headline?—let's go to ten pages—what we need is an icebox in the file cabinet and plenty of cold beer when we turn out the paper—but Mr. Sweeney, but Mr. Sweeney . . . but . . . how do you spell . . . ?

Life on the Connecticut CAMPUS was never dull. There were always plenty of people hanging around—sometimes they were staff members, sometimes the paper got out on time too. Bill Dowding, the ever-smiling, be-hatted emissary from the printers became a permanent feature, sitting at the editor's elbow or leaning over somebody's shoulder giving forth with wry commentary. 1950 was a red letter year, too, because the paper went to three issues a week—and besides being exciting, look at all the extra work that meant.

There were press conferences with Prexy—trying to get a word in edge-wise. There was the perennial battle to prevent being scooped by such un-important papers as the Hartford Courant. And to think it was all done on the oldest living specimens of ancient typewriters.

The paper printed more pictures, publicized more queens, complained about more things, carried more sports coverage, and left out more stories than ever before. We even managed to get a couple of scoops—the new provost and the final word on the "Veep" speaking at graduation. And ever though the Editor scratched his head bald, and the Sports Editor got ulcers, and the Business Manager made money—for the paper—it was still a great year for the leading student newspaper at the University of Connecticut.

The Husky Network

The Husky Network, whose call letters are WHUS, provides its personnel with valuable experience in all phases of radio in addition to offering a wide program schedule to the campus listening audience. The Network broadcasts nearly one hundred hours a week, including the regular schedule and special events such as dances, lectures, interviews, and athletic events.

WHUS is a charter member of the Intercollegiate Broadcasting System, and as such is affiliated directly with more than one hundred similar stations throughout the country. The station is also a member of the United Press which provides full news coverage on the network teletype machine twenty-four hours a day.

Many WHUS graduates have gone on to good positions in commercial radio, and the station is fast being recognized in New England as a good training ground for radio talent.

The 1950 NUTMEG

LIKE THE UNIVERSITY OF CONNECTICUT, the 1950 Nutmeg staff has stressed growth . . . as evidence of this the book has many new features: a different cover with Johnathan IV symbolizing school spirit rather than the so often used school seal; two color plates, representing the first full color we've ever had in the Nutmeg; a magnified introductory section illustrating the various schools and colleges of the University; a section for the dorms which have been neglected too long; and a Year In Review section to help you remember the outstanding social events of the year.

There are many I, as editor, would like to thank . . . for, if the book is a success, it is due to the editors and their staffs, the people who wrote write-ups and posed for pictures, the senators, faculty, etc. Obviously too many people for me to thank individually here . . . however, it would be unfair not to single out for special commendation David Jordan and Douglas Dunn. Dave, of the Campus Publishing Company, has been inspiring to work with, a fine person and from a fine firm. Doug and the Warren Kay Vantine Studio have done an outstanding job of photography coverage . . . To both men, my sincere thanks.

Other U-Conn Organizations

AMATEUR RADIO CLUB

Broadcasting from the Engineering Building, they may be heard nightly on the higher frequencies . . . filling the ether with the Huskie's bark . . . carrying the voices of U-Conn men around the world.

A. S. M. E.

By sponsoring field trips, speakers, movies, parties, a papers contest, and attendance at national and regional conventions, this club helps satisfy the social, cultural, and educational needs of its members.

A. S. A. E.

The American Society of Agricultural Engineers Student Branch was organized in April 1949 to further student interests in Agricultural Engineering by sponsoring programs dealing with various phases of Agricultural Engineering.

A. I. E. E.-I. R. E.

The joint student branches of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and Institute of Radio Engineers are affiliated with the national organizations and have as a purpose the furtherance of professional development of the student.

BADMINTON

The thirty members of the Badminton Club meet on Monday afternoons from four to six o'clock to try to perfect their playing technique. The members compete within the group by means of a ladder tournament and a double elimination tournament.

BLUE AND WHITE

The Blue and White Club "sounds off" at its reserved cheering section at games and sponsors buses to the away games. This peppy group also organizes the Sadie Hawkins' week and dance on campus.

"C" CLUB

The "C" Club, open to all varsity athletes, aims to bring about a closer relationship among the athletes of the University of Connecticut socially, in the classroom, and on the field. These men have spent much time and effort in bringing recognition to the University for their part in athletics.

ETA KAPPA NU

The Beta Omega chapter of the Eta Kappa Nu Association, a national honorary electrical engineering society, was chartered in May, 1949. Membership requirements are scholastic achievement, extracurricular activities, personality and character.

FOOTBALL BAND

The Football Band, as its name implies, was active only during the football season. A full-scale pageant was prepared each week and presented during the half-time period. The band made trips to Yale University and Springfield College.

4-H CLUB

The University 4-H Club is primarily for former 4-H members and their friends. Its purpose is to maintain active interest in 4-H work and provide interesting social and educational programs.

OFFICERS: President, William Braithwaite; Vice-President, Alfred Vail; Secretary Dyllis Schlosser; Treasurer, Julius Yale; Program Chairman, Anita Gelston; Membership Chairman, Hugh MacKensie.

GLEE CLUB

The Glee Club, directed by Mr. Herbert A. France, had a very active year. They gave concerts at Clinton, Columbia, and the annual concert at Worcester Polytechnic, also a radio concert over the New England College Glee Club Hour.

HILLEL CHOIR

The Hillel Choir is a musical organization sponsored by Hillel, and directed by Mrs. Celia Bellman. It sings the beautiful Sabbath music at the weekly Friday night services. Highlighting the choir activities are trips to various Jewish congregations throughout the state during the year.

INSURANCE SOCIETY

The Insurance Society is composed of students who are either majoring in Insurance or have an interest in the subject. The society seeks to supplement the academic study of insurance by inviting guest speakers whose personal experience and work have been outstanding in the field.

I. Z. F. A.

IZFA, through its three-fold program of activities, education, Israel projects, and Jewish culture, hopes to produce an alert and informed leadership for the American Jewish Community and aims to enlist students in the Zionist movement.

ITALIAN CLUB

The Italian Club has been organized to help students in the advancement of the Italian language, both written and oral. Movies and other activities of the club acquaint the members of the club with customs and traditions of Italy.

MANSFIELD GRANGE NO. 64

Mansfield Grange #64 is an Agricultural Fraternity which extends its privileges to all student members of the order.

PANHELLENIC COUNCIL

The Panhellenic Council, composed of representatives from each sorority on campus, is primarily the governing body of women's Greek letter groups. Its purpose is to formulate and enforce all policies affecting the mass action of sororities and to foster fraternity spirit.

This year a Panhellenic Scholarship for a year's tuition was instituted which is available yearly to a Junior woman who fulfills the University requirements for scholarship awards.

President, Evelyn Pavlosky; Recording Secretary, Lynn Schumacher; Corresponding Secretary, Jennifer White; Treasurer, Marjorie Lynch.

PHILOSOPHY CLUB

The Philosophy Club is composed of those students who are interested in discussing philosophical subjects, hearing student papers and listening to guest speakers.

PHYSICS CLUB

The Physics Club has as its purpose the correlation of the students' scientific and social perspectives. In this endeavor the club has sponsored a program of movies, lectures and field trips.

PI TAU SIGMA

The Connecticut Pi Psi chapter of Pi Tau Sigma selects its members in recognition of their high academic achievement in mechanical engineering. The chapter exerts a strong influence in stimulating interest in departmental and extracurricular activities.

R. O. T. C. BAND

The R.O.T.C. Band is composed of freshmen and sophomore students from the R.O.T.C. who are members of the Football, Varsity or Concert Bands. This group is active only during the regular R.O.T.C. drill hour, playing for all reviews and parades.

ROUND TABLE

The Round Table is a formal discussion group treating with topics within a wide range of social and intellectual matters. It was formed to alleviate a lack of interest on campus of important events.

RUSSIAN CLUB

A medium through which Russian language students may acquaint themselves with the various phases of Russian culture. Music, literature, movies and "Samovar Teas" are part of its attraction to popularity. The meetings are enriched with interesting tales by the faculty advisor, Mr. Golub.

SOCIOLOGY CLUB

The members of the Sociology Club meet regularly to discuss various sociological problems in everyday life. Lecturers are brought to the meetings from time to time to assist the students in keeping up with current problems. Among other events, the club took field trips to supplement their club activities.

STUDENT-FACULTY COMMITTEE

The Student-Faculty Advisory Committee, composed of appointed members, serves as an advisory committee to the President. Problems brought to committee are discussed and recommendations sent to the President. Chairman of the committee is Professor G. S. Torrey and Roberta Mann is Secretary.

TAU BETA PI

Tau Beta Pi, the largest national honorary Engineering Society, was founded to mark students of distinguished scholarship and exemplary character, and to foster a spirit of liberal culture in the Engineering Colleges of America.

TOUCHSTONE

TOUCHSTONE, officeless but tireless, has been trying to bring a humor magazine to the campus for two years. More and more people have been agreeing that it has succeeded.

UNITED WORLD FEDERALISTS

This is the only American student organization working for world government. Recent activities include: corresponding with European students, seeing congressmen, promoting world government referendums, and participating in summer institutes designed to train leaders.

UNIVERSITY CHOIR

Approximately seventy Protestant students comprise this choral organization which functions under the inspiring guidance of Dr. Robert W. Yingling. The group's activities include singing for Sunday services, vespers, concerts at churches throughout the state, and special Christmas Candlelight and Easter services.

U. OF C. CONCERT BAND

The University Concert Band has had a very active year—two campus concerts and a tour of Connecticut.

The tour included assembly programs for high schools and evening programs open to everyone.

U. OF C. CHESS CLUB

The U-Conn Chess Club is a permanent member of the Connecticut Chess League and plays in tournaments with Wesleyan, Yale and many other Connecticut teams. The club's over-all purpose is to give U-Conn students the greatest enjoyment possible from the royal game.

OFFICERS: President, Bill Dworski; Secretary, Betty Schatz; Treasurer, Ray Oxman; Tournament Director, Don Wright.

U. OF C. FIRE DEPARTMENT

The University Fire Department consists of ten regular paid men, fifteen student volunteers and a paid chief. The department makes its headquarters in the Security building, drills regularly with its two engines, and is always ready to roll when called.

FISH AND GAME CLUB

A recent addition to campus activities, this club presents informal programs of movies, lectures, and discussions on hunting, fishing, and conservation.

OFFICERS: President, Basil Dikovsky; Vice-President, Richard Hale; Secretary, Franklin Bradley; Treasurer, Lawrence Gross.

VARSITY BAND

The Varsity Band served many purposes during the year. It played for many student activities as well as many of the home basketball games. Its membership is composed of all bandsmen except those in the Concert Band.

SENIOR

Typical of the leadership that the Senior Class offered to the University was the presentation, by this class, of a series of speakers.

CLASS OFFICERS

JUNIOR

The Junior Class at the University has added much to the social life on campus. The Junior Weekend is justly famous. This year saw an exceptionally fine and interesting Junior Prom, play and picnic.

The people most responsible for the success of the Class of 1951 in this field were the class officers, who are: President Edward G. Ryba, Vice-President George Freibatt, Treasurer August Tomasetti and Secretary-Historian Margaret Plunkett.

SOPHOMORE

Probably the outstanding work by the Sophomore Class was the presentation of its annual Minstral Show. This show is the climax of the Community Chest Carnival.

This year's class officers have shown themselves to be worthy of the trust placed in them. They are President Charles A. Parakilas, Vice-President James J. Barry, Treasurer Margaret Cardwell, Secretary-Historian Frances Geenty.

FRESHMEN

The Class of 1953 was off to a vigorous start with the elections of class officers.

In the largest vote ever recorded for offices in this class, Al Rogers was elected President, Don Blume Vice-President, Don Chapman Treasurer, and Margaret Watson Secretary-Historian.

It is from the Class of 1953 that the future leaders of UConn will come.

PIED PIPER

IN EARLY UCONN DAYS the frosh hazing consisted of rope pulls, push ball contests, and an annual pig roast with the sophs. The Pied Piper was originated in the early '40s and since then we've had pipers Andy Love in 1946, Nathan White 1947, Bud King 1948, and this past fall Fred Whitehouse. Tradition has it that the president of the Student Senate is always the Pied Piper.

The parade started at Koons, and while waiting for it to assemble freshman Lee Bone shows her short skirt underneath her cheer leading outfit. The freshman girls must wear skirts above the knees and many carry stuffed animals or dolls and play children's games such as ring-around-the-rosey in front of Sprague. The freshmen boys wear pajamas and bath robes.

Pied Piper Fred Whitehouse, Bob Stiener with Johnathan IV, the cheerleaders, and the 49ers lead the procession around campus gathering the freshmen from each dorm.

Pied Piper

ONCE THE PIED PIPER has collected all the frosh, plus the interested upperclassmen, they march to the athletic field behind the Hawley Armory, where there are singing of school songs, antics, and entertainment. Then, with the lighting of their candles from the Pied Piper's torch, the freshmen sing the Alma Mater. Afterwards everyone goes into the Armory to enjoy a get-acquainted dance and late permission.

HOMECOMING WEEK-END

The prize house decoration was Alpha Xi Delta's football player kicking the Rhody player

HOMECOMING WEEKEND this year was combined with our famous Rhody football clash, plus the beginning of Sadie Hawkins week and the end of the Mayor of Storrs campaign which was led by such contenders as Dr. George N. Sunn and Marsha-Mello.

The mischief started several days before the game with the stealing of the Rhody Ram which was "hidden" at Lambda Chi while Johnathan was at Theta Chi, protected from the raiding Rhode Islanders who came to recapture the ram and take the husky in return. Connecticut successfully held both mascots until the game and then had a difficult time persuading the Rhode Island men to claim the ram.

After the judges looked over a variety of house decorations and saw Rhody "kicked", "wrecked", "washed-out", "cut up" and cooked à la "pan Rhody Ram", they decided they'd rather see the Rhody player light up as he got kicked, and awarded the prize to Alpha Xi Delta.

PRESIDENT'S RECEPTION

THE PRESIDENT'S RECEPTION is the first chance for new students to formally meet Dr. and Mrs. Albert Nels Jorgensen.

It is a semi-formal dance usually held the first month of school and is echoed by Hartford and Waterbury Branches which also hold President's Receptions early in the year.

The guests are also welcomed by the President of the Student Senate and the President of the Women's Student Government Council.

MILITARY BALL

MARY PATERSON was elected Co-ed Colonel at the annual Military Ball and is shown with her escort, Robert Larson. The Co-ed Captains were Lois Lasewicz, Marjorie Stoudt, and Shirley Watts.

The Co-ed Colonel and the Co-ed Captains marched beneath crossed sabers to the stage with their escorts. Practically every branch of the service was represented in the watching crowd.

The theme of the ball was the Army and Air R.O.T.C. and school colors were draped from the walls and ceiling of the Hawley Armory.

The Military Ball was planned and directed under the leadership of William Naylor, chairman.

Five hundred couples danced to the music of Tommy Tucker's Orchestra. It was the first time Tucker had played at UConn and he said that he was surprised at the size and beauty of the university.

CO-ED

WEEKEND

THE HIGH LIGHT of the Co-ed Weekend was Betty Vandermeer's announcement of the new Mortar Boards. Miss Vandermeer, president of the Laurel Branch of Mortar Board announced the new members who had been tapped during the evening as: Nancy Baxter, Rita Gersham, Mary Jezyk, Roberta Mann, Joyce Moran, Marge Plunkett, Patricia Rollins, and Jane Weber.

Patricia Roberts announced the new campus king as Jack Rollins, who was presented with a gold crown; the smoothie, Don Thompson, received a bow tie; Tony Costanzo, the gigolo, was given a mustache; and the jester, Jesse Sklar, landed a kiss and a blue and white dunce cap.

The Co-ed Weekend also featured a Jazz concert and play.

The concert held in the Beanery with Danny Conn's band playing Dixieland and Bop.

"John Loves Mary" was one of the outstanding dramatic productions of the year. It starred Carol Salzberg and John Elliot, and was directed by Cecil E. Hinkel.

COMMUNITY CHEST CARNIVAL

THE COMMUNITY CHEST CARNIVAL is beginning to become a tradition at UConn. The clubs, fraternities and dorms on Campus open booths in the hope of raising money. A regular mid-way is built and the athletic field takes on a carnival atmosphere.

The Carnival is begun by a parade around campus which feature various types of floats, the best float is given a prize. This year found Theta Xi winning with a float which looked like a ship.

A visit along the mid-way at the Carnival would find money wheels, a tent of freaks, a pie throwing booth and many other attractions.

Toward the end of the evening a fire engine was auctioned to Tau Epsilon Phi. Then, just before the Sophomore Minstral Show, it was announced that Jeanne Hochberg had been elected Carnival Queen.

The Outing Club won the award for the best men's booth. While Kappa Alpha Theta won the award for the best women's booth.

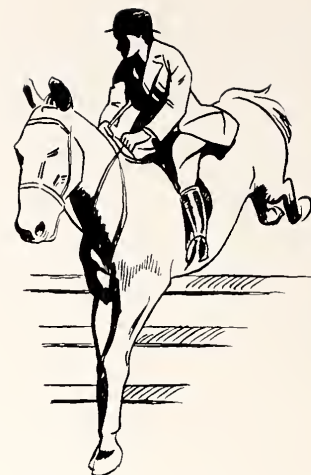

Lambda Chi Alpha won an award for earning the most money.

The Carnival realized $1,555.00. Chairman Hank Phillips was responsible for its success.

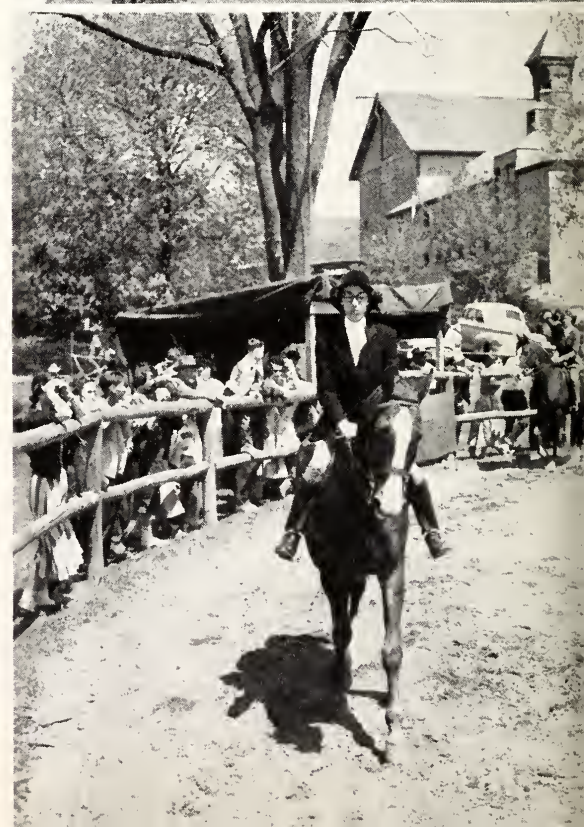

HORSE SHOW

JUNE BROCKETT won the Soloman Trophy in the 18th Annual Horse Show of the University Block and Bridle Club this spring. Mrs. Mildred Soloman Goodman of the MRS stables awarded the trophy.

One of Mrs. Brockett's closest rivals was Pat Hubbell who had won the trophy twice and would have retained permanent possession of the trophy if she had won it again this year.

These pictures show Addie who teaches UConn riding classes; the contestants for the Soloman trophy lined up for inspection by the judges; jumping; and some of the exhibition Western riding.

JUNIOR WEEKEND

Junior Prom

THE MAIN FEATURE of the Junior Weekend is the Junior Prom. It easily classifies as one of the big dances of the year.

This year the Boyd Raeburn's Orchestra played for the Junior Prom in the gaily decorated Hawley Armory. The A.P.O. deserve a great deal of credit for the Armory decorations.

There are several high points in the Junior Prom, the first is being introduced to the receiving line. This year's line included Ed Ryba, President of the junior class; Miss Phyllis Townsend; Miss Mildred French, Dean of Women; Miss Joyce Moran, President of the Women's Student Government; Mr. Arwood Northby, Director of Student Personnel; and Mrs. Northby.

Shown here, with Ed Ryba, are the Queen Candidates, who are: Ellie Sadowski, Jan Schriever, Patsy Rollins, Mary Mazurek and Queen, Munsey Schramett.

Another highlight of the evening was the announcement of the names of the Druids. Shown here are the Druids and Dr. Northby. The Druids are: Bart Schmidt, Dan Molchan, Bob Garvey, Phil Isaacs, John Nachyly and Fred Whitehouse.

Junior Picnic

THE JUNIOR WEEKEND also includes the class picnic and play.

This year the picnic was held at Sweetheart Lake. The picnic was dominated by cold swims and cold drinks. The combination spelt relaxation and fun.

The photographer has caught the spirit of the group in these informal "shots."

Junior Play

THE JUNIOR CLASS PRESENTED the play "Frankie and Johnnie" to end this wonderful weekend.

The play was a take-off on the famous poem, "Frankie and Johnnie". It was a melodrama which took place in an old Western Bar.

These photographs show the play in its various forms.

SENIOR WEEKEND

Picnic

THESE PICTURES show the senior class picnic moving along to its climax. At the first the crowd was interested in sun and water. But as the day wore on they became more interested in getting to the bottom of things. It is good to the last drop.

Coronation Ball

THE FIRST ANNUAL CORONATION BALL was held Friday, June 9, at the Willimantic Armory and featured Ray McKinley's Orchestra and the Johnny Guarneri Quintet for continuous dancing from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m.

Over 700 couples attended what was termed the most successful dance ever to be held at the University. The theme of the dance was "Every Girl a Queen." During the evening every girl was crowned "Queen of Her Escort's Heart," in a brief ceremony held on a raised dias with a crown suspended over it.

The dance was sponsored by the Senior Class of 1950. Nathan Zeidenberg, senior social chairman, originated the Coronation Ball.

ALUMNI DAY

ALUMNI DAY was celebrated by the old and new alumni, dressed in various costumes varying from barrels to orange and white shirts. One class even had a mascot, a goat.

They enjoyed a program which included: a baseball game; a dinner in North Campus dining hall, and an Alumni Dance in the Hawley Armory.

COMMENCEMENT

The Great Day has finally arrived for the Seniors . . . Graduation Day.

The day starts with Commencement Exercises—the faculty marches into the cage, followed by the Seniors, their families and friends. Finally everyone is seated. President Jorgensen introduces Alben Barkley, Vice-President of the United States, who is the main speaker. Needless to say we all listened with great interest.

GRADUATION

A pause for lunch. Then the show goes on—through the afternoon, into the evening. We Juniors look on, a catch in our throats. It will be our turn next. We think of ourselves in their places, some of us walking up proudly to receive special honors—the rest of us listening as our names are read and we are given that small white sheet of paper that says we have somehow managed to finish the third big step in our education.

Finally it's all over. We take one last look around at campus, dorms and study halls, frantically say goodbye to old friends, find our parents and with some relief and many misgivings take our leave of dear old CONNECTICUT.
